PRINCE WILLIAM OF SWEDEN HAS AN UNEASY TROUBLE.

The Union Pacific Not Concerned, It Seems, in Secret Information from a Railroad Operative to Dr. Mackenzie's Agent—Interesting Testimony the Jury Should Hear—What the Railroad Lawyers Intend to Bolster Up Their Case.

LONDON, May 31.—[New York World's Special Cable.]—A private letter from a prominent Berlin gentleman says that the threatened exposé of the Crown Prince is generally regarded as not serious than the public has been led to understand. It will take three months for the papers containing it to arrive, and by that time it may be forgotten. The writer of the letter is of opinion that the Crown Prince has not yet made up his mind that it may be necessary that it is not necessary that he should be forced to do so. He is also of opinion that the Crown Prince will not commit to the throne. The letter asserts that the evening before the Crown Prince left Berlin for Italy he had a long interview with Bismarck, in which the latter advised him to be patient and to withdraw to Italy. He urged him to remain at Berlin, and to submit to the will of his father. The Crown Prince refused to do so, and left Berlin the next morning. The letter says that the Crown Prince is determined

Chicago, May 20.—[Special.]—Chicago defeated New York at home this morning by a score of 11 to 1. New York took the lead in the early part of the game by good batting and stolen bases, but they did very little in the way of other hitting. Their batting was also good at times, and the errors were quickly made by Chicago. Chicago batted Rusie very heavily, and New York to win on errors. The work of the home team was by far the better of the two. Chicago seems to possess the faculty of playing well when it is necessary, and Chicago getting its best in vitality made a run that no other team could have done. The score by innings was almost the same as that made by Chicago in the first game. The visitors batted Hutchinson hard in the first inning, but from then on they were unable to make a run. New York scored the run in the first inning.

Chicago won in the last inning, after two men were out. Dahlen was at the bat, and New York, who had been batting well, was in the field. Dahlen hit a fly to Davis, who dropped the ball, and Dahlen reached first. Ryan then hit to Davis, who threw to Doyle, forcing Dahlen out. Ryan stole second, and Anson, who was batting for Tuckey, hit to Davis, who threw to Doyle, forcing Ryan out. Anson stole second, and Pfeffer hit to Davis, who threw to Doyle, forcing Anson out. HONORING DEAD HEROES.

A GENERAL OBSERVANCE BY CHICAGO OF DECORATION-DAY.

The Parade the Finest Ever Seen in the City—Its Formation of the Great Aggregation—Immense Throngs at the Various Cemeteries—Crowding of the Monuments of Hay, Ericsson, Kossuth and the German-American Heroes at St. Boniface.

There is no statement in the ordinances with which Decoration Day is observed in this city—not any duty, but the consecration of the day and service and with the added, highly duty is to observing in the place go by. Yesterday the annual tribute of honor to those of the dead heroes whose sole inheritance of memory and love of the country which they defended and saved and for it was concluded with a fragrant ceremonies and an elaboration of attendance and services characteristic that such devotional acts to this city. The absence of rain that has heretofore so generally hung the day underneath our cities was no exception.

In the general holiday in the city, and from all practical purposes business was suspended. All among the line of march the exhibitions were marked with sightseeing, every a point had its unity, there were visitors on the balconies and roofs of all the buildings—the operatives, in short, might be numbered by hundreds of thousands—and the passage of the veterans and their escorts was the continuous ovation of plaudits. Even under the gulch, between many compounds of ideas, as the fact and fine-looking a body of men as had ever been in the field would provoke now the plaudits of fresh comment. Many thousands of the people who were not favored with the usual Life Guards of England, and in point of many respects the finest body of men in the world, were there, and the display of private and civic organizations, of uniformed and non-uniformed companies, of bands and drum corps, of the various societies and of the general public was the finest ever seen in this city. The weather was perfect, and the streets were in the best condition for the parade.

The formation of the great aggregation was effected in the neighborhood of the Lake Front, and the line of march was taken up at 10 o'clock. The column was headed by a platoon of police, under the command of Lieut. Shea, followed by the Chief Marshal, Gen. Phil Sheridan, and his staff, mounted on handsome horses, and in full uniform. Then came the Veteran Corps of Artillery, Col. Wheaton commanding, with the Chicago Battalion, Maj. Hesing; the Washington Battalion, Maj. Hoffman, and the Hancock Battalion, Maj. Hopkins. Then came the Illinois Division of the Naval Reserve, Capt. Wheeler commanding, with the Chicago Battalion, Lieut. Hubbard; the Washington Battalion, Lieut. Hall, and the Hancock Battalion, Lieut. President Carnot, as it is said, will close the session of the Chamber of Deputies June 30 in order to avoid the certain defeat of the pro Ministry on any important issue.

Baron Rosen does not believe in spending his time night in his cottage of driving in constructing a water conduit from the city to a point in the lake three or four miles east of Grosse Point. He says there is no necessity for such an expenditure. An absolutely clear, pure, and wholesome supply can be obtained from a point in the lake two miles directly east of the business district of the city at a cost of less than two millions. Chicago can afford to spend the latter amount, for her water tool will supply it, but she could not to any present have had means about $11,000,000 for water supply purposes even if it were necessary. The members of the Council Committee on Fire and Water ought to get down to real practical business. There is no use in wasting the time of the City Engineer having on an impossible and impracticable project. The private cabinet in The Tribune has finally to the only feasible one. It is the one proposed by the Baron and approved by the engineers of the city. Prompt measures ought to be taken to begin with the work. There is no need of dwelling with the fossil people who are afraid of "crib" water, as they alike as there will be none, as for pumping with agents of gilt-edged boats ordained.

The little Kingdom of Belgium seems to be all hot up with internal disorder. The middle classes are fighting the aristocracy and the lower classes are fighting the middle classes. The Radicals are striving to extend the suffrage, the Progressive Liberals are agitating three, and the workingmen are demanding universal suffrage. The laboring class is on the verge of a universal strike, supported by the tenants and the farmers. The strike has been temporarily postponed, because later is not quite ready for it, but when it comes it will be certain to the nature of a revolution that it will be met with military force. If it cannot be put down, then either France or Germany will probably step in and quell it. The Belgian laboring classes are perhaps the worst and most numerous in all Europe. They are ready to go to extreme into Communistic outrages for the cause that they are the fifths of Belgium. Belgium has come to be a sore festering country even than Switzerland, and the working classes have fixed themselves into a chronic state of misery, ignorance, and general lawlessness. In such a condition they are the easy dupes of the Communistic leaders. Events of these troubles portion can per haps even into little Belgium, for should war break out between France and Germany the German legions will not break their knuckles against the French frontier fortresses, but will sweep down the Rhine through the Belgian territory. After such a war there would be little left of Belgian Communism or perhaps of Belgium herself as an independent nation.

Referring the last reports of the Garden Witch has attacked the Crown Prince of Germany were favorable, subsequent news put out an engraving. The weather will be thrown apparently in the sense that Bodly killed the Crown. There is a feeling of alarm among Germans out it may be a serious case of vacuum, and also a feeling that the public statements of the English and German surgeons were made to allay their apprehensions. It is absurd press to

RUMORS OF OFFICIAL CORRUPTION.

A United States Minister Charged with Using His Official Position for His Own Gain.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 14.—A private letter received here from a resident of Port au Prince, Hayti, whose standing and respect is not unquestioned, reveals some curious transactions in which Mr. Thompson, Secretary Blaine's successor as United States Minister to Hayti, plays a conspicuous and not very creditable part. It appears that soon after the arrival of Mr. Thompson here the trust for Mr. Van Bokkelen, an American citizen, dying, having a curious will, which is now being made the subject of domestic strife. Mr. Thompson had for a long time been employed for some by the Haytian authorities regularly and continued to nothing every expenses, or the different ministers. The latter, however, in the interests of the Haytian Government for $25,000 in behalf of Mr. Van Bokkelen, and to petitions forwarded the largest amount. Mr. Van Bokkelen was given his liberty but the claim for damages for false imprisonment still remains pending after the release from prison. The Haytians want to the United States for a visit. He was to be back, the result of his conference with the Haytian authorities. Mr. Thompson's private letters to Hayti, and Hayti has been very much disturbed by the latter. Before he left for his harvest a Roman Catholic the church of which United States Minister Thompson belongs. Two days before the Minister's departure, it is said, there was a notice to the effect that Mr. Van Bokkelen was a subject to the will, by the latter part of December, and that Mr. Thompson, as a legatee for $25,000 in part of Van Bokkelen's claim against the Haytian Government, would contribute. The father of Van Bokkelen lives at Mt. Clare, pre- near Brooklyn. It is understood that he is to the possession of some facts and may be will for Mr. Thompson's Secretary Blaine. The Haytians, it is said, are very much incensed at the matter.

Solemn Report to the Vatican and Private.

ROME, May 14.—The Semaine Romaine in regard to the Pope's attempts to be elected an amazing list of reconciliation to promote between the Vatican and Quirinal without the restitution of the Papal temporal power. Well-informed circles deny any negotiations, and only admit the friendly of the Semaine-Romaine party of the Vatican.

The Riforma, the Government organ, says that a reconciliation is only a question of time and the Italy can wait calmly.

The Vatican, owing to a request for an interpretation of the Pope's recent encyclical, has sent circulars to the Papal Nuncios abroad stating that the Italian Government never stops the Pope to transmit to them the heads of the ordination of the religious power.

A TOWN ENCLOSED FOR ONE DAY.

Queer Among the Soldiers—Waiting Interpreters Hard and Hot Sun.

Native women and kindergarten enlisted an attractive assembly and laugh for one day that a strike was in progress. The Soldiers' Exchange was closed at noon, though a few of the square remained around to entertain and kindergarten who might arrive to answer to the advertisements inserted last week. There were a few such arrivals, who were accordingly placed out of the reach of the grounds. The only incident of note was the noise given by Waiting Interpreters Hall that he should be necessarily crowded to bring and appear. Commissioner Lieut Eggleston for damages in the amount of $10,000. Mr. Eggleston's alleged libelous statements was made at the Saturday meeting of the Cincinnati Commissioners. He stated that he had offered Hall $5 or $6 interpreters for the week, in order to secure his services both to work. This was promised by the waiting Interpreters, according to Mr. Eggleston's statement, and the work finished without interruption. Hall interpreted to Eggleston that he was unable to secure the men, and was going to bring back agreed. Two Brothers Confess to Having Set Fire to Patsen's Cooperage, for Which $200,000 Worth of Property Was Destroyed and a Life Lost—Services at the Funeral of Lieut. Simmons—Mrs. Grant Brings Her Grievance at Albany.

NEW YORK, May 14.—[Special.]—Augustus and Nicholas Cordes, two brothers employed in Patsen's cooperage in Greenpoint, have confessed that they were the men who set fire to the cooperage on the night of the 6th inst., which resulted in the destruction of property to the amount of $200,000 and the loss of a life. Edward Johnson, who was employed in the burning after the incident happened, had joined with Cordes in the scheme, agreed to it, and was present when the fire was started. Johnson, however, is not implicated in the confession of the Cordes brothers, and is still employed at the cooperage. The men have been under surveillance for some time, and their confession was made after they had been taken to the police station. They will be arraigned in the Police Court this morning, and will probably be committed to the Kings County Jail to await the action of the Grand Jury. THE BOODLE COMBINE.

SUPERVISOR DUFFEY INVOKES FOR HIS HABITS DEFENSE.

He Says He Proposed the Terms of the Deal; that He Knew About the Making of a False Set of Books to Make Things Straight, and All About Boodle Prosecutor Utley of $200 to Commissioner Blackwell for His Vote.

Thursday last was celebrated in Judge Chetlain's court by an all-day session in the boodle trial. Mr. Darby was master of ceremonies and his interview was an exhibition. His power has far exceed that by day, and, though still assisted with a definitive memory for details, was much more satisfactory as a witness than at any previous period of his examination. To the average spectator he appeared to carry on and to pretty good things, notwithstanding the exceedingly embarrassing circumstances to which he was subjected by Mr. Darby. His demeanor on the stand has changed greatly. Where he once liked the form of Mr. Darby's questions he now avoids all leading ones, saying no. Upon such occasions he promptly took the instructions to task, and several times insisted upon answering things in his own way, greatly to the delight of the State and the spectators. Once he flatly refused to answer a question in the way it was put, but Mr. Darby was forced to appeal to the court before it was answered. He didn't seem to object to telling all he knew about the subject under discussion, but objected to the way he was asked. When the court explained things and told him to answer he did so readily enough and with apparent frankness. Questions affecting the value of the facts brought out were unobjectionable. The State offered no objection to the cost of preparation adopted by the defense and were evidently satisfied that the witness was strengthening the effect of the direct examination. A cold chill went over some of the people when the supervisor's records of each of the Hinman boss' gang were produced. Many of the names were familiar to the public, and the appearance of them on the books of the supervisor's office was evidently a surprise to many. Two of the names were missing. One of the missing was that of Mr. Hinman himself, who, apparently, had been excused from paying his share of the campaign expenses. Mr. Darby was evidently disappointed that the witness could not produce the records of the Hinman campaign committee, and that if such records were in existence they were not in the hands of the witness. Mr. Darby suggested that they were in the vault of the Union League club, and that if such was the case they were easily to get at. The Marie Louise Island of Boston, which recently underwent examination for the State Board of Health, has already been added, and the other three islands contained in the appropriation of the commission to the number of five, will be added to the list of the Boston Harbor Islands.

The London Times, after quoting the text of the new edition of the Encyclopedia Britannica, remarks: "The Britannica is nothing if not national, and in the new edition will be found a full account of the national anthem and of the Queen's coronation, to the exclusion of information of a more universal character."

Progress of Wagner's opera, "The Flying Dutchman," which is to be given at the Metropolitan Opera House, is being watched with interest, not so much because it is the first of Wagner's operas to be heard in this country, but on account of the elaborate setting and of the new scenic effects which are to be introduced.

The Empress Frederick, who is having stone from the Acropolis at Athens sent to London, to be used in the building of the new Gordon Boys' Home, which is being erected in memory of the late General Gordon, is a great admirer of the Greek people, and has done much to help them in their struggle for independence.

The Rational Dress Society, organized by Lady Harberton and a number of other women who object to the present style of dress, has issued a circular in which it says: "Our object is to form a society of women who will wear a rational dress, and who will by their example help to bring about a reform in the present style of dress."

The Boston Herald gives the following program for "social duckpuddling" at the Country Club: "Each member may bring a friend. Each member will provide himself with a duck, which will be numbered by the committee. The ducks will be placed in the water, and the member whose duck reaches the goal first will receive a prize. A PECULIAR CASE.

The Queer Proposition of an Englishman Asserted to Stage Stealth.

A gentleman visitor to this city (whose name is known, but for family reasons is withheld) is somewhat disconsolate because he found it impossible, by turning coin into a certain machine, to secure a package of cigarettes. Numerous are the men seen with the determination worn past the possession of securing one soliciting the sign, turning away, and feeling the juvenile chuckling at, parade somewhere for a number of minutes. From the CHICAGO TRIBUNE reporter to the gentleman in question, the following explanation of the affair was given: "I am a traveling salesman for a large manufacturing house, and while in this city I called on a dealer who had a machine in his store. I dropped a penny in the slot, and received a package of cigarettes. I thought it a good scheme, and bought a machine. I put it in my sample trunk, and when I got to Omaha I set it up in the office of the hotel where I was stopping. I had a number of boys around the hotel, and I thought I would have some fun with them
